

Immobile Mobile for Eight Hanging Banners, 1975 - Present

Alexander "Sandy" Calder (American, 1898 – 1976)

Pamphlet Release

Philadelphia Art Book Fair

Friday, May 5th and Saturday, May 6th, 2017

1227 N. 4th Street, Philadelphia, PA

DBQ is pleased to share a new pamphlet highlighting Alexander Calder's Immobile Mobile for Eight Hanging Banners, 1975 - Present. Part of Equity Commonwealth's corporate collection and originally commissioned by developer Jack Wolgin, the work now resides in the lowest level of Centre Square at 1500 Market Street in Center City Philadelphia.

DBQ's new pamphlet explores the history of this never-exhibited late work by one of Philadelphia's most revered artists. Intended to be in dialogue with Claes Oldenburg's iconic Clothespin and Jean DuBuffet's Milord La Chamarre, both on display at the same location, today it is an immobile mobile amongst the automobiles.

This two-color risograph pamphlet (15" x 3.75", Edition of 100) will be distributed for free at the Philadelphia Art Book Fair in anticipation of a forthcoming DBQ publication.

DBQ is a collaborative project by Alex Lukas and Leah Mackin.

<http://dbq.website>
dbq.email@gmail.com